Orange Blossom Trail (U.S. 441) Intersection Improvements at Donegan Avenue

Osceola County

Financial Project Identification (FPID) No.: 450435-1

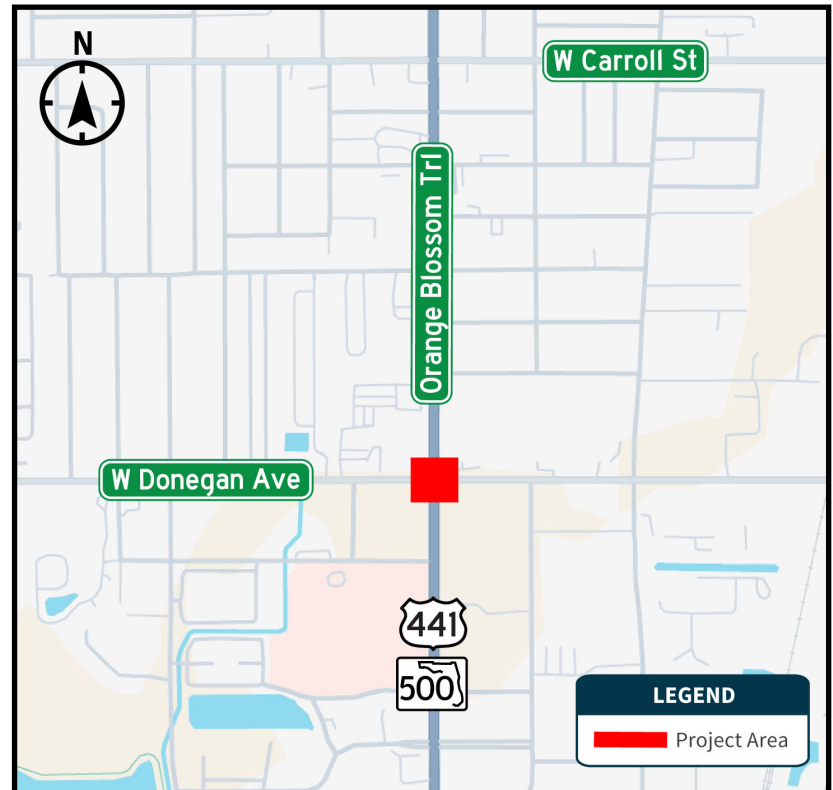

Project Description

The Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) is proposing improvements at the intersection of Orange Blossom Trail (U.S. 441) and Donegan Avenue in Osceola County. The goal of this project is to enhance intersection safety and operations for drivers and pedestrians.

Proposed improvements include:

- Traffic Signal & Pedestrian Signal Upgrades -
 - Reconstructing the traffic signal with new mast arms and new signal heads to improve visibility and functionality.
 - Installing “Turning Vehicles Yield to Pedestrians” signs to alert drivers and enhance pedestrian safety.
 - Upgrading pedestrian signals and incorporating Leading Pedestrian Interval (LPI) into signal timing to give pedestrians a head start crossing the street before vehicles are allowed to move.
- Corner Reconstruction -
 - Rebuilding of the northeast and southwest corners with new curbs and sidewalks to meet current Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) standards.

These proposed improvements will enhance pedestrian safety, improve traffic flow and visibility, and increase mobility for all users.
